

Early education customer fees during the holiday period between 1 June and 31 August.

Customer fees will be charged normally between 1 June and 31 August. Pay attention to the following exceptions.

Cancelling a reservation

Please remember to cancel your child's early education reservation during the holiday period if you do not need it. This lets you avoid a potential fine (Education Committee 18 January 2017, Section 3), which is half of the child's monthly fee. If a monthly fee is not charged for the child, the fine will be equal to half of the minimum fee (€27), i.e. €13.50.

The cancellation must be made in writing a week before the start of the reservation. You can make the cancellation in Päikky by planning absent days for the child and notifying the serving day care centre about them. If you are unable to use the E-services, you can deliver the cancellation in writing directly to the serving day care centre. Find the serving day care centres on the City of Turku's website.

July fees

In July, fees will be charged if the child's early education has started 1 September 2018 or after

- half of the monthly fee will be charged if the child is absent for the whole calendar month
- the whole fee will be charged if the child is present even one day during the month. Please pay particular attention to Monday 29 and Wednesday 31 July.

July is free of charge if the child's ongoing early childhood education started prior to the first day of September the previous year (2018).

Free-of-charge summer

No fee will be charged for early education if the child is absent from early education as notified in advance in June, July and August for all three calendar months or for two consecutive calendar months (either June and July or July and August). (Social and Healthcare Committee 25 February 2009, Section 129.) If the child is present during the time when the child is listed as absent, the fees will be charged normally.
